Creighton Epilepsy Center is proud to welcome the Nebraska Epilepsy Support Group at Creighton, which is an epilepsy support group that provides hope and knowledge to epilepsy patients and their family members.

Each session is different and may include educational information and resources, expert speakers on epilepsy topics and plenty of time for participants to talk, share their experiences, validate their struggles and celebrate their triumphs.

- Learn the latest in epilepsy treatment (new medications, surgery, vagus nerve stimulation)
- Share your experiences
- Hear what others have learned
- Meet doctors, nurses and social workers with experience in treating people with epilepsy
- Learn what family members can do to help
- Compare your experiences to those of other epilepsy patients and their families

This group meets on the third Tuesday of every month from 7 to 9 p.m.
