New Medical Education Publication Opportunity

The Editorial Board of the Journal of the International Association of Medical Science Educators and the Publications Committee of IAMSE recently announced two new initiatives:

- “Innovative Ideas in Medical Education.” These are short, no more than 350 words, descriptions of innovative techniques in medical education.
- The publication of one or two monographs per issue. The monographs are to be longer articles on a specific subject of general interest to medical educators. It is envisioned that many of these submissions will be reviews of topics of general interest or “how to” papers (i.e. professionalism education, research methods in education, lecture techniques). Monographs will be actively solicited. Potential authors are also encouraged to contact the Editor-in-Chief of JIAMSE, Uldis Streips - unstre01@louisville.edu - with proposals for monographs. Submitted manuscripts will be peer reviewed prior to publication.

Deadlines

February 15, 2007  Creighton University Office for Academic Excellence and Assessment

The Office for Academic Excellence and Assessment (AEA) is requesting proposals for Spring 2007 grants to support “new or early-stage” faculty development projects. The purpose of this grant program is to provide “seed money” for a work in its early stages or a developing Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SoTL) project. Contact micheleking@creighton.edu

February 23, 2007  AAMC – Research in Medical Education (RIME)

The AAMC is requesting submissions for papers and abstracts to be presented at the 46th annual Research in Medical Education (RIME) Conference, which will be held Nov. 2-7, 2007 in conjunction with the association's Annual Meeting in Washington, D.C.
