- Billing is based on the online reservation system. Users may be charged for facility usage exceeding reserved session times. Full price will be charged for reservations dropped less than 24 hours prior to the initial reserved time.
- Reserved sessions completed more than one hour before the end of the reserved time may entitle the user to a partial rebate. A rebate request must be requested.
- Assisted facility usage, subject to approval, may be requested in advance by contacting the imaging specialist or Director.
- Users will receive monthly invoices. Creighton users are required to supply Fund and Organization numbers for billing. Non-Creighton users will be billed monthly. Payment is due 30 days from invoice generation date.
- All data should be saved to BIG DISK H. Although acquired data is backed up weekly, data safety is not guaranteed. All data is subject to removal from the CUIBIF system 6 months after its initial generation date. Users are responsible for transferring data from CUIBIF system before the end of this 6 month period. Long term data storage is available upon request.
- Imaging of any type of live pathogens and/or animal samples which require live animals to be utilized on Creighton's campus must be approved by Creighton University's IBC prior to experimentation. Contact Dr. Richard Hallworth for specifics regarding documentation submission and approval. If publishing data collected at the CUIBIF, the following funding acknowledgement should be included; "This research was conducted at the Integrative Biological Imaging Facility at Creighton University, Omaha, NE. This facility, supported by the C.U. Medical School, was constructed with support from grants from the National Center for Research Resources (5P20RR016469) and the National Institute for General Medical Science (NIGMS) (8P20GM103427), a component of the National Institutes of Health (NIH). This investigation is solely the responsibility of the authors and does not necessarily represent the official views of NIGMS or NIH."
- I have read and agree to the CUIBIF terms of use agreement.
